

'Indigenous Cuba: A Photographic and Scientific Search for Cuba's original inhabitants'

With Hector Garrido, director of the "Cuba Indígena Project"

Were the original habitants of the island of Cuba completely extinguished after the arrival of the Europeans?

Proyecto Cuba Indígena's main objective is to give a definitive answer to this controversy. For this, the Project has launched a team of professionals of different specialties in order to obtain a solid and indisputable answer.

Tuesday, January 21
6275 Bunche Hall
2:30PM - 5PM

Light refreshments will be provided

ucla
Latin American INSTITUTE

UCLA Program on Caribbean Studies
Latin American Institute

UCLA

College | Social Sciences

History

UCLA DEPARTMENT OF

SPANISH & PORTUGUESE