

4TH ANNUAL NAHUATL CONFERENCE AT UCLA

Friday, June 4th, 2021 | 9:00 AM - 4:00 PM PDT

Zoom Registration:

<https://bit.ly/3i0qFML>

Detail of page 35 of Códice Sierra Texupan, Fondo Antiguo de la Biblioteca Histórica José María Lafragua, Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla

This free webinar features new research and teaching on Mesoamerica by 3 native-speakers of the Nahuatl language, 3 advanced students at UCLA, 4 scholars from Mexico and Los Angeles, and 3 high school teachers from the LA Unified School District. Nahuatl is the language spoken by the Mexica or Aztecs, and it is still spoken today by about a million people in Mexico. Presentations will be in Nahuatl, Spanish, and English or a combination of the 3 languages.

